

The Pretoria Parrabellum was the first Mobile air battle gun platform (commonly called sky battle ships). Its name, Pretoria Parrabellum, means "Best in War" in latin. it is the flagship of the 1st Air Patrol Squadron. It has a crew of 5 and is armed with 10 small rockets that are used for bombarding enemy positons from the air. It can stay aloft for up to one week before it needs helium.

To assemble th Airship, first take the teo main deck sections and assemble them so that everything is two-sided. then attach the ballons on either side, and the sails to the bottom. you can add your own armarments an crew after that.
